- Most of the results have been improving meeting after meeting.
- Exceptionally, in some questions, the results have worsen, as in questions "You were able to express your opinions" (only slightly), "Relationships among its members were satisfactory", "The opportunities to share ideas and dialogue were adequate", "You shared work methods with partners and gained in the process", "Activities and materials were

Compared analysis

- interesting and creative", "You responded positively to the tasks at hand" (a heavy fall in the results of the last meeting), "Project activities helped you to find a problem and solve it" (here the good results reached at Luxembourg were never equaled) and "You felt you were making progress" (the results were not so good at the last meeting). Food for thought...
