“Roaming” staff in various silent partner organisations managing benevolent actions and local programs

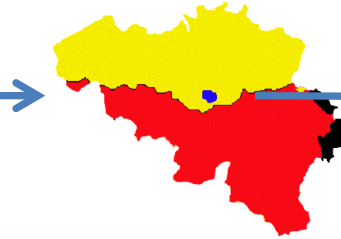

Zebra administrators are professionally involved in public social care services or in recruitment services in the private sector.

Educational mentors and trainers have specialized in the fields of psycho-sociology and human geography. They have a well established experience in education and training courses. Their activities have mainly been focused on learning strategies, developing skills and intergenerational relationships.

They create workshops corresponding to the request of associations such as the Public Social Action Centre, the local library, senior citizens organizations, etc.

Zebra's actions are focused on groups with specific needs or with particular profiles such as

- * Deprived persons (on self-esteem, budget management, in search of adequate housing).*
- * Senior citizens in residences (reminiscence groups for cognitive stimulation)*
- * Adults in specialized adapted work centres (disabled persons).*

Zebra is currently setting up targeted language courses for asylum seekers and native illiterate persons employed in adapted work enterprises.

Zebra received the Grundtvig prize for Creativity and Innovation from its National Agency in 2009.

It was chosen by its National Agency to present "Lifestyles Revisited" at a conference in Brussels as a model partnership and project in September 2013.
