Adult Learners

Adult learners: identified that adult learners have the following unique characteristics:

They come to class with a wealth of working experiences.

They are ready to learn what they need to know or do in order to solve real world problems.

They usually know what goal they want to achieve.

They like to know why they should learn something.

They are motivated to learn in order to apply what they learned to real life, to increase job satisfaction, etc.

Adult Learners

Another aspect of adult learning is motivation. At least four factors serve as sources of motivation for adult learning:

Social relationships: to make new friends, to meet a need for associations and friendships.

Social welfare: to improve ability to serve mankind, prepare for service to the community, and improve ability to participate in community work.

Personal advancement: to achieve higher status in a job, secure professional advancement, and stay abreast of competitors.

Escape/Stimulation: to relieve boredom, provide a break in the routine of home or work, and provide a contrast to other exacting details of life.
